Russia Silent on Laos, U. S. Builds Forces

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — In the absence of a Soviet cease-fire agreement for Laos, the United States is reportedly pressing forward with its buildup of military power in and near southeast Asia. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today that the Kennedy administration is determined to use force to the extent it may be compelled to do so to prevent a Communist takeover in the southeast Asian kingdom.

However, officials here estimate there is at least an even chance that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will agree to a cease-fire and follow up negotiations at an international conference for a permanent Laotian settlement.

Pending disclosure of the Soviet reaction, officials said, the United States has no assurance that a peaceful settlement can be achieved. It is therefore continuing the preparations for possible military action and the strengthening of a Laotian government forces which were started last week.

A resolution adopted Wednesday at a SEATO meeting in Bangkok, Thailand, is regarded here as making clear to the Soviet bloc not only U. S. but Allied concern over the Soviet-backed rebel efforts to take over the country. If action should become necessary, officials said, the resolution demonstrates that it will have an all-out effort.

However, the resolution put major emphasis on allied interest in getting a peaceful settlement. President Kennedy sent a message of congratulations to Rusk Wednesday for his work at the SEATO conference.

Landlord Case to Court of Appeals

MEMPHIS (AP)—A legal fight to have 15 white landlords ordered to renew dealings with Haywood County Negro sharecroppers will be taken to a federal appeals court.

The Justice Department announced the appeal Wednesday immediately after District Judge M. S. Boyd refused to hold a hearing on the motion.

It was the latest move in a complex civil rights case involving whites and Negroes in two west Tennessee counties — Haywood and adjoining Fayette.

In rejecting the department's bid to restore last year's status quo for the 23 sharecroppers involved, Boyd called the case "pretty well fouled up, to say the least."

The department contends the 23 sharecroppers have been barred from their usual farming procedure—because they registered as voters—and therefore cannot make a living.

The Negroes are among hundreds in the two counties that have been under shelter of a court order temporarily barring landlords from evicting them.

The other stands until decision is reached on the government's claim that eviction is part of an economic conspiracy formed to drive Negro voters out of the area.

Although no evictions have been allowed, neither have planting preparations been made.

U. S. Plans to Close Out 52 Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced today the closing or curtailment of activities at 52 military bases and installations in the United States.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said this was the first phase of the already announced White House plan to eliminate obsolete or surplus installations among the 6,700 bases at home and abroad.

The estimated annual savings from today's action may eventually reach $220 million, although this amount would not be saved during the several years needed to carry out the cutback program.

The cutback will affect about 15,000 civilians and military personnel in the United States and about 19,000 overseas.

Of the 15,000 in the United States, about 9,000 are civilians working at bases and 6,000 are military. Overseas, about 15,000 are military and 4,000 civilians.

McNamara told newsmen the Defense Department will do all possible to relocate persons who lose jobs by the shutdowns.

He said that since the cutback program will be carried out over a period ranging from 12 to 36 months, there should not be any "sudden, sharp, critical impact" on employees.

In reply to a question, McNamara said that in general the government would not pay for relocating workers. However, it was explained later that there would be exceptions to this.

Today's announcement did not identify the 21 bases which are being closed down or cut back overseas. They will be disclosed sometime during the next two or three weeks.

McNamara said the reduction in overseas base operations would contribute substantially to the effort of the United States to reduce the outflow of gold.

Dollars spent by military personnel abroad build up dollar credits in foreign countries which may ask payment from the United States in gold.

McNamara estimated that eventually this cutback in overseas base operations might save perhaps $100 million a year in balance of payment operations.

A number of the domestic bases involved in today's operations are comparatively small.

Bank Robbers Get 25 Years

MEMPHIS (AP)—Two Chicago gunmen who robbed a bank at Oakland, Tenn., last month have each been sentenced to 25 years in prison.

Curtis James Olive, 30, and Lamar Williams, 23, pleaded guilty. They were captured Feb. 3 a few minutes after the holdup. The $3,157 the two Negroes got from the bank was recovered.

Their girl friends, Carrie King, 28, and Catherine Loretta Wade, 23, each drew a 10 year sentence at Wednesday's federal court session. Authorities said the women acted as lookouts.

Rusk, Nehru Agree on Laos Plan

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk stopped off for talks with Prime Minister Nehru today on his way back to Washington and the Indian leader said they agreed "very largely" on approaches to the problems of Laos and the Congo.

Rusk and Nehru conferred for an hour and a half and then had lunch together before Rusk continued his journey home from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization meeting in Bangkok, Thailand.

Asked by newsmen whether he expected peace in Laos, Nehru replied: "I can't say. We hope for the best."

He said he had received no fresh indications of the Soviet attitude toward the peace proposals put forward by the British on behalf of the eight-nation SEATO alliance. But he added India had received "a very valuable hint some time ago." He did not elaborate.

Rusk said the length of time the West can wait for the Soviet answer depends upon what happens on the ground in Laos, and the next move is up to Moscow.

As Rusk spoke, the Laotian government transport planes still were flying into Laos and that heavy fighting broke out two days ago in eastern Laos between the Communist backed rebels and the royal army.

Rusk said no time limit had been set for the Soviet reply.

Rusk said he and Nehru did not discuss the communiqué issued by the SEATO ministers in Bangkok. That declaration warned Moscow that members of the alliance were prepared to take "appropriate action" unless the Communists quit military intervention in Laos. But it did not spell out what action would be taken and held out a hand for negotiations to end the strife in the jungle Asian kingdom.

Moscow newspapers reported the SEATO declaration in such mild terms today that Western diplomats in the Soviet capital felt it indicated the Kremlin is disposed to seek a workable solution to the Laotian war.

Red China and Communist North Viet Nam denounced the SEATO conference without mentioning the declaration.

Faubus Bond Plan Gets Backing

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—A former president of the Arkansas Education Association, Hubert L. Minton, today endorsed Gov. Orval E. Faubus' proposed $60 million construction bond issue, which the AEA is opposing.

Minton, president of both the Conway School Board and the Faulkner County Board of Education, said he did not think the bond program would endanger public school funds. This is the reason the AEA has given for opposing it.

Minton said neither the state's colleges nor the public schools could exist without the other.

He is director of alumni activities at Arkansas State Teachers' College, which would share in the bond funds.

Police Dogs Help Scatter Negro Crowd

By BEN MCCARTY

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi's capital city faced an uneasy quiet today after club-wielding policemen accompanied by trained dogs waded into a crowd of 100 Negroes outside a courtroom Wednesday.

The police action preceded the trial of nine Negro college students charged with breach of the peace for a sit-in demonstration last Monday at a for whites only public library. They were convicted and drew $100 fines and 30-day suspended jail sentences.

The nine, all students at Tougaloo Southern Christian College on the northern outskirts of Jackson, staged the state's first mass anti-segregation demonstration.

A crowd of Negroes, many students or faculty members at three Negro colleges in the area—Tougaloo Southern Christian, Jackson State and Campbell—gathered outside the city court building before the hearing.

As the defendants started up the steps of the building, the spectators began clapping and singing.

An officer said: "That's it! Move 'em out! Get 'em!"

Police moved quickly into the Negro group, swinging their sticks and shoving. The German shepherd dogs lunged at the people.

The younger Negroes quickly scattered through a parking lot to safety, but some of the slower ones were clubbed on the head and back. The dogs bit and ripped the clothing of several persons.

Chief of Police M. B. Pierce said G. W. (Red) Hydrick, 55, a Rankin County white bootlegger, was charged with assault and battery and carrying a concealed weapon after he pistol-whipped Thomas Armstrong during the melee. Hydrick was the only person arrested.

Armstrong, a Negro who writes for a Jackson newspaper and does free-lance photography, was chased from in front of the building before he was attacked by Hydrick.

Police ordered the white people in the area to move out, but did not strike them.

"Call off the dogs. Slavery is over," the president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People wired Gov. Ross Barnett.

NAACP leader Roy Wilkins protested the police action.

The small court room was jammed during the hearing. Negroes sat on one side, whites on the other. The defendants sat silently on the first two rows in the Negro section.

Weather Delays Hunt for Lion

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — It's no weather for hunting lions. A band of foxhunters which has been pursuing the patch of an animal—believed to be a lion—has been rained out this week. They had planned to take to the woods in search of the beast this morning, but an overnight rainstorm washed out their plans.

Rainy weather makes it hard for the hounds to follow a trail, they explained. And it's not too pleasant for the hunters, either.

Possibilities of a Special Session

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Possibility of a special session of the Arkansas Legislature hinges on two big ifs.

1. If Pulaski Circuit Court rules the $17 million omnibus bill unconstitutional, and

2. If voters reject a $60 million construction bond proposal.

Speculation about a special session was fanned anew Wednesday when Saline County Rep. Virgil T. Fletcher revealed he had asked Gov. Orval E. Faubus to call one. Faubus said later he was not inclined toward a special session, at least not until the courts had determined the fate of the omnibus bill.

All talk of a special session involves the omnibus bill. Faubus promised legislators he would call them back to repeal the omnibus bill and reallocate its funds if the bond issue fails. The bill will, of course, have to be re-enacted if it is declared unconstitutional.

The bond and omnibus bills are linked in Faubus' sweeping institutional construction program. The $60 million in bond money could be used at the University of Arkansas, seven state colleges, the Children's Colony, the Blind and Deaf schools and the McRae Sanatorium.

The omnibus bill contains about $11 million in cash appropriations to various agencies.

Pulaski County Rep. J. H. Cottrell filed the just challenging constitutionality to the omnibus bill on grounds that it appropriates for more than one purpose.

Faubus and William J. Smith, his legislative secretary and the man who wrote the bill, said precedent and practice favor upholding of the bill. Smith said he had drawn hundreds of bills in legislative work with several governors and not one had ever been declared unconstitutional.

If the court throws out the bill, Faubus could call a special session within a few days, but he might wait until after the bond election, since it would be useless to reenact the appropriations separately in advance of the bond vote.

On the other hand, failure to call a special session could be interpreted as a lack of confidence by the governor in approval of the bond bill. Such an interpretation might reduce its chances at the polls.

Faubus has said that the majority of the omnibus funds will be allocated to the State Hospital and the Children's Colony if the

Rivers in Arkansas Are Flooding

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Ouachita River swelled to flood in south Arkansas today, but the U. S. Weather Bureau said it presented no major threat of damage.

Rains soaked most of the state overnight. Fort Smith had nearly an inch of rain and Fayetteville, Flippin, Little Rock, Walnut Ridge and the Memphis area all had about half an inch. A severe weather alert for extreme southern Arkansas expired with no storms reported.

The Ouachita rose 3.6 feet overnight to 27.9 feet, nearly two feet above the official flood stage of 26 feet. And the Weather Bureau predicted a crest of 29 feet—up one foot from its earlier forecast—by Saturday.

Even at 29 feet, however, the river should not cause any serious flooding, the Weather Bureau in Little Rock said. Prolonged heavy rains would be needed to swell the river to major flood proportions, it said.

Upstream at Arkadelphia the Ouachita rose 2.1 feet overnight to 11 feet, one foot below flood stage, but forecasters said it should drop quickly.

The White River at Clarendon continued slightly above flood stage for the second week, but the Weather Bureau said only additional heavy rains would boost it to serious flood level.

Radar computations made on the ground showed that test pilot Joe Walker took the research craft to an altitude of 165,000 feet. Near the top of his climb, Walker reported by radio:

"It's a nice, dark blue overhead, and I do have time to look around."

As he was looking around, Walker was at the top of his long arc across the heavens and was weightless. He was weightless two minutes, the longest such period ever experienced by a human.

He suffered no apparent ill effects.

Peel's Fate in Hands of a Jury

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP) — The fate of Joseph A. Peel Jr., accused mastermind of the Chillingworth murders, was placed in the hands of a 12-man jury today.

Circuit Court Judge D. C. Smith asked the jurors to deliberate "calmly, fairly and dispassionately" in determining if Peel was the accessory before the fact to the 1955 slayings of Judge C. E. Chillingworth and his wife Marjorie. He gave a choice of three possible verdicts:

1. Guilty, which means an automatic death penalty;

2. Guilty with a recommendation of mercy, which would bring life in prison;

3. Innocent.

The case went to the jury near the end of the fourth week of the trial. To return a guilty verdict, Judge Smith said, the jury would have to be convinced beyond every reasonable doubt that the Chillingworths were dead, that they died because of a criminal act, that they were drowned by Floyd Holzapfel, and that Peel, 37, commanded Holzapfel and Bobby Lincoln to do the job.

Holzapfel, confessed killer of the Chillingworths, testified that Peel ordered him to kill the judge to prevent him from exposing Peel as a racketeer operating behind the cloak of a city judge.

Governor Hits Angrily at AEA Secretary

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus today suspended all current state construction projects and said no other work could be started because his $16 million omnibus bill is tied up in court.

Faubus accused Forrest Rozell, Arkansas Education Association executive secretary, of instigating the suit for selfish purposes. He did not explain.

The suit was filed in Pulaski Chancery Court by Pulaski County Rep. J. H. Cottrell Jr. last week.

The governor, bristling with anger, told a news conference his fiscal officials had informed him that a 1959 appropriation bill for current construction expires April 1 and no money can be legally allocated after that date. The 1961 omnibus bill reappropriated some money from the 1959 measure.

Faubus was uncertain how many state construction projects are under way, but he said specifically that work at the Children's Colony at Conway would be halted.

Also tied up in the omnibus bill, he said, is $50,000 for operation of two colony cottages already completed.

"These cottages hold 32 children each," Faubus said. "About 40 children already have been admitted. It will be necessary now to return these children to their homes until this matter is resolved."

Asked if he felt the suit was aimed at him because he vetoed an AEA-backed teacher retirement plan and signed his own plan, Faubus snapped:

"Ask those who filed the suit. They know its purpose better than I do."

Faubus said emphatically that he does not intend to call a special session of the Legislature to rewrite the omnibus bill in an attempt to get around the court challenge.

The omnibus bill appropriates about $5 million in cash funds for various agencies.

When he filed the suit, Cottrell denied any link with the AEA.

Faubus said Cottrell was being used by a "little selfish clique." Asked to identify members of the clique, he mentioned the names

Building Lags Despite Easier Cash

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The lag in home building despite the hopeful nudge from easier money policies is focussing attention today on two other fields for construction gains.

One is the increase in apartment house construction, with still greater gains expected in the next few years.

The other is the upgrading of present homes to fit changing family needs and the salvaging of many city neighborhoods starting on the downgrade.

Home building normally accounts for about 5 per cent of the total national production. But this support of the economy has been declining most of the time for two years and the 1961 outlook is for only a slight increase in building of new homes.

The government has changed its money policies from tight to easier and thus made more money available for home mortgages. It also has moved to lower mortgage interest rates. There has been some decline in various areas in the cost of financing a home, much of the drop due to lower discounts asked when the money is advanced.

But still the demand for new homes hasn't responded as hoped.
Some say building costs are too high. Some say the postwar housing shortage is only a memory and there's no great urge to buy anymore.

Two other fields look brighter.
The demand for apartments is rising because of the increasing totals of both senior citizens and the young marrieds who aren't ready yet for a home of their own.

Builders also report that more home owners are enlarging or improving their present homes and that still more are talking about it if financing can be arranged.

Once more the federal government is stepping in. This time it is President Kennedy's proposition to Congress that the government insure 25-year home improvement loans.

The Federal Housing Administration will now insure improvement loans for five years at 5 per cent interest rate, discounted, so the actual interest is 9.4 per cent, for a top loan of $3,500. The Kennedy proposal would raise the terms to 25 years with a maxi-

Gas System Bond Issue to a Vote

GILLETTE, Ark. (AP) — Gillett residents will vote April 5 on a proposed $250,000 bond issue to construct a natural gas distribution system.
Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. will lease the system and assume ownership eventually if the issue is approved.

The aim is to attract families wishing to improve or enlarge present quarters. The market potential here could be quite large, builders say. For one thing, today's higher building costs would apply only to the addition and not to the entire resulting house.

A further goal is to interest home owners and landlords in city areas where older housing is beginning to turn shabby prelude to becoming slums of the type that blight large sections of many cities.

It is hoped that property owners will consider taking out a long-term mortgage to repair or modernize existing housing so that whole neighborhoods can be saved from taking the plunge. Builders say such moves taken in time are often more than repaid in increased resale values or in command of higher rentals.

This, at least, is the thinking behind the new housing proposals.
Griffin said he will work
for legislation to prevent municipalities from financing industrial development with such tax-free bonds. "This is an outrageous situation," he said, "which obviously must be remedied if states like Michigan are to compete for
new industry."

Calls State Industrial Plan Unfair

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Michigan congressman has said he believes tax-free industrial municipal bonds are unfair and he intends to work a revision of tax laws to prevent them.

Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., said he became concerned about the subject when Fort Smith, Ark., lured the Norge operation of Borg-Warner Corp. to move from Muskegon, Mich. to Arkansas.

Griffin said Fort Smith induced the move by financing a new plant with a $7.5 million municipal bond issue. He said Borg-Warner bought $6 million of the bonds, on which it will receive tax-free interest.

The lawmaker said he will work
for legislation to prevent municipalities from financing industrial development with such tax-free
bonds. "This is an outrageous
situation," he said, "which obviously must be remedied if states
like Michigan are to compete for
new industry."

Arkansas is one of about 10 states, mostly in the South, which are permitted to issue municipal bonds to finance industrial development, Griffin said. He added that Michigan is forbidden by its laws to use municipal bonds for anything but public purposes.

Griffin did not outline what

Slayer to Lead Police to Graves

PECOS, Tex. (AP) — Police said an Army deserter sought in the slayings of two Arkansians promised to lead officers today to the graves where he said he buried his wife and stepson.

Oscar A. Kernohan, 33, admitted killing the woman and boy.
Chief Deputy Sheriff Gary Ingram said.

He already is charged with the fatal shooting of an Arkansas man and investigators want to question him about the slaying of another in this vicinity last month.
FBI agents captured Kernohan
Tuesday night at a Truth or Consequences, N.M., motel.

Ingram said Kernohan readily agreed to show officers the spot where his wife Jo Ann, 37, and his stepson Roger, 2½, were buried in shallow graves near Balmorhea, south of Pecos.

Mrs. Kernohan and the boy disappeared last Dec. 19 from their home in San Antonio.

Authorities charged Kernohan with murder Feb. 28 in the shooting of Norman Cox, 21, of Benton, Ark., whose body was found in a highway culvert near Pecos three days earlier. Officers found Cox course he might take to get tax laws revised.

Town to Get the Streets Promised

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The town of Higden will finally get the streets the federal government promised to build it.

Higden, in Cleburne County, was moved from its former location last year because the old town site will be flooded when Greers Ferry Reservoir is formed. The 25 or so families had their houses relocated, but for the past year they have been without streets.

Wednesday Army Engineers opened bids for construction of five graveled streets. CoArk Construction Co. of North Little Rock bid $14,204 for the work, to be completed in 90 days

Quads Born to Family Totaling 10

HYLOKE, Mass. (AP)—Quadruplets were born to Mrs. Raymond J. Feyre, 35, today, increasing the family children to 10.

The 114-pound, 5-foot-3½ wife—prepared for triplets—exclaimed "You're kidding!" when her doctor gave her the news.

The father, 38, a $120-a-week insurance agent, was told to sit down before the doctor gave him the news.

"Wonderful! How are they?" the father asked.

The babies, ranging in weight from 3 pounds, 5 ounces up to 3 pounds, 13 ounces, had been expected in May.

Doctors described the conditions of all, and the mother, as excellent.

The mother was sped to the hospital for the premature births, all of which took place within a 10-minute time span. May 17 had been the birth date forecast by doctors.

Two of the quads are girls and two are boys.

Prepared for triplets, and with names for all of them, the Feyres are now revising their list.

Papa Feyre—pronounced fair—will also be revising his grocery budget soon. He is now spending $45 a week for groceries.

Having caught his breath after the first excitement, he said bravely to an interviewer, "I'm the father and I'm going to support them. I'm thrilled."

The small, slight, pregnant mother last month saved two of the family's youngest children when fire heavily damaged their home.

Stadium Bond Exchange May Succeed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Indications are the War Memorial Stadium Commission will succeed in exchanging 80 per cent of its interest-bearing bonds for non-interest bonds by July 1.

That was the deadline set by the Legislature which agreed to exchange the state's $500,000 worth of interest bonds if the commission could persuade private holders of $500,000 worth of bonds to do likewise.

"The campaign seems to be going good," said Allen Berry, manager of the stadium. "I don't have complete statistics because the area chairmen aren't reporting until their job is complete, but the early reports are excellent."

The commission has about 100 area chairmen working and the Walnut Ridge and Malvern chairmen already have reported 100 per cent conversion. "Pine Bluff and Hot Springs are nearly complete," Berry said. "El Dorado is well along and we're doing real good in Little Rock." There are 40 committeemen working Little Rock alone.

Getting rid of the interest burden is a major factor in the commission's plans to expand the

Wife Finds Other Woman's Picture

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

My husband of 27 years has been unfaithful. I went to get a ticket in his billfold and came upon another woman's picture. He confessed. This affair started when he was working away from home with a group of friends on a construction job. None of the wives were along.

How can a man make passionate love to his wife one day and another woman the next. Everybody, including myself, thought ours the ideal marriage. Yet he went off with this woman, and lied to me, saying he was going hunting. He claims he had to because she threatened to tell all.

I didn't rant, scream or cry. I was at a funeral, burying the thing I held most dear. Being a child of divorce I have always tried extra hard to be a good wife, and mother. But somewhere I failed. I can't eat or sleep and have lost 17 pounds in less than two weeks. I know he loves me. I love him and our sons adore us both. What should I do? —Mrs. Rebel

Dear Mrs. Rebel: Forgive and forget. There are times, especially after 27 years of marriage, when a husband can be tempted by some woman he fancies he would like to know better. If wives were clairvoyant, they might be shocked at what goes on in husbands' minds. There is nothing surprising in the fact that your husband still loves you passionately. This extra-marital experience has evidently revived his point-of-view. He probably likes the other women but—he loves you. If your love is big enough, you can accept this and continue in marriage, the better for this broadening experience. Read my leaflets on "The Ideal Husband and The Ideal Wife."

The following advice from Mrs. H. seems pertinent apropos of the above letter. "Make your husband want to come home and stay there with you, just by being a charming, loving, attractive and trusting wife. He'll stay home if you keep him and alluring."

Dear Helen:

Four girls—I am one—are doing a school project on individual and group life. One topic is titled "Symptoms of the Unhappy Youth." I think you can tell an unhappy person by looking into their eyes. My friends disagree. Am I wrong or right? Will you please tell me some symptoms? —S. B. Y. G.

Dear S. B. Y. G.: You and your friends are both right. It has been said that the eyes are windows of the soul but that depends upon the individual. Some have the capacity to conceal their emotions behind expressionless eyes. Longie Zwilman, the only gangster I ever interviewed, had eyes which could be merry, as well as expressionless, yet he eventually hanged himself.

stadium, which now seats about 44,000 at sellout.

The stadium's income ranges between $30,000 and $50,000 a year. Operation and repair costs $30,000 a year. Then there's $2,000 a year pledged to interest if interest is claimed on the entire $125 million bond issue.

The $37,000 total would put the stadium in the hole most years. Fortunately, the state has been forgiving interest on its half-million dollars right along. Private holders have forgiven interest on another $180,000 and $45,000 in bonds have been donated back to the commission.

Still, the total interest bill has been running about $15,000 a year. Combined with operating costs, it doesn't leave much for a general improvement program.

Stadium income is derived principally from the three football games the University of Arkansas plays there each fall. In a good year—like last season when the Porker feds were Oklahoma State, Ole Miss and Rice—the income is high. But next year the Razorbacks will play only one major game in the stadium and the outlook is gloomy.

The stadium gets 15 per cent of the gate for university games. When other schools—Philander Smith College, Catholic High, etc.—use the stadium, they pay a fixed minimum charge, since they don't draw well enough to make 15 per cent pay off.

The stadium tries to stage a professional game each year to boost its income. Back in the late 1940s and early 1950s, the stadium earned as much as $27,000 a year from a pro game. But attendance declined and last year's attraction—the Dallas Texans vs. the Denver Broncos—only paid expenses.

Berry said an effort is being made to line up a pro game this fall.

Judge Rules for Late Show on TV

CHICAGO (AP)—TV or not TV? That was the question before Superior Court Judge Daniel A. Covelli Tuesday.

James A. Cannon, 52, a railroad fireman, sought an injunction to keep the television set in his home silent after 10 p. m. He said he gets up at 5 a. m. and his sleep is interrupted by disturbing background music and screams from television programs.

His wife, Helen, 50, asked an injunction to keep the set on after 10 p. m. Both pleas were incorporated in a divorce action filed earlier by Mrs. Cannon, who charged her husband with cruelty

Mother Goes 37 Miles on Foot for Son

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—"The doctors said Charles was ready to come home," said May Bowman, 46.

So she set out to walk 37 miles from her tenant farm home in Surry County to Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem to bring her 9-year-old son home.

"I didn't know what else to do."

Judge Covelli ruled that Cannon must not turn off TV at 10 p. m. if his wife wants to watch the late show, or even the late, late show. However, Covelli cautioned Mrs. Cannon to keep the volume low.

"This happens to be a free country and for me to interfere would be un-American," Judge Covelli said.

The judge overruled a plea by Cannon's lawyer that most of the movies on the late shows aren't worth viewing.

She left home about 9 a. m. The day was overcast and walking wasn't too hard for a woman who farms to care for five children and an aging mother.

Ten hours later she had covered 27 miles when a neighbor saw her and gave her a lift the rest of the way.

"I had to get down to that hospital," Mrs. Bowman said. "He hadn't never been away from home that long. He might have been crying all night down there."

Charles, a third-grader, had measles when he was 3 and the childhood disease caused the muscles of one eye to contract, making him cross-eyed.

A welfare worker arranged for corrective surgery and the family took Charles to the hospital Sunday.

But Monday the doctors sent word to come and get Charles. He was too anemic and generally run down for an operation now. He would have to come back at another time.

Mrs. Bowman tried to call the welfare worker, but she wasn't in. She hiked along the narrow dirt road near her home, checking her neighbors, but nobody was going to Winston-Salem.

"There wasn't nothing to do but walk," she said. So she walked.

Mrs. Bowman said people at the hospital were real nice. They gave her a room for the night and arranged for her and Charles to ride home in an ambulance that had come to the hospital from their neighborhood. They were back home at dusk.

bond issue fails.

Fletcher, in asking for a special session, conceded that the omnibus bill is unconstitutional, but he said he feels the Legislature would willingly make individual appropriations for the same items.

The governor has given no indication when he will set the bond election. Apparently he is waiting for the various institutions which will benefit from the bonds to start working in behalf of a favorable vote. Faubus has indicated he will not carry the entire weight of selling the bond proposal to voters.

Faubus drew up the massive construction program after the Legislature rejected a proposed $53 million bond issue, to be financed by a soft drink tax, for the university, the colleges, the State Hospital and the Children's Colony.

The present bond proposal would be financed from current revenues. Legislators who worked against both the bond proposal and the omnibus bill said they did so because Faubus took care of minor needs in the omnibus measure, which taps current cash surpluses, and put major construction needs in the bond proposal. They felt he should have allotted some of the money already available to the State Hospital and other agencies covered in the bond bill.

Congress to Take Easter Vacation

By JACK BELL WASHINGTON (AP)—Members of Congress take off today for an Easter vacation and a chance to find out at first hand what the folks at home think about President Kennedy's New Frontier program.

On the results of their personal canvass may depend the legislative fate of some hotly-contested presidential proposals such as the administration programs for federal aid to education and medical care for the elderly.

The Easter break after nearly three months of sessions found 13 of 18 top priority bills listed by the President in February still

3 Break Prison in Tennessee

DYERSBURG, Tenn. (AP) — Three prisoners, two of them charged with murder, overpowered the jailer and broke out of the Dyer County jail today.

The trio escaped shortly after they seized jailer Pinky Newhouse, knocked him unconscious and took his keys.

The escapees were Willie Quinn,

21, Negro, his brother, Johnny, 23, both of Memphis; and Sammie Middget, address unknown.

The Quinn brothers were being held on charges of murdering a 57 year old Negro barber during a $4 robbery two weeks ago.

bounding around in various stages of the legislative process. Along with some other measures it passed, Congress had completed action on only three on the priority list—an extension of unemployment benefits, a feed grains control measure and Senate ratification of U.S. affiliation with the organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD).

While this represented only moderate progress, administration strategists professed to be confident that Kennedy will get most of his program through in time for an early summer adjournment of Congress.

They were heartened by House passage Wednesday of a $394 million program for depressed areas in substantially the form the President recommended. A compromise with the Senate's version is in order before the bill can be sent to the White House.

This victory offset in part the licking Kennedy took with House passage last week of a Republican substitute for his minimum wage bill. The Senate will take up this measure in mid-April with indications that it may approve a bill more satisfactory to the President.

JFK Has a Victory Over Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy now has a solid victory over Republicans in Congress on the depressed areas issue. But Democrats have to settle a raging controversy among themselves before the program can become law.

The House and Senate both have passed bills providing for a $394 million loan and grant program to try to get factories going in areas of high continuing unemployment. The House passed the Kennedy bill 250-167 Wednesday after knocking down, 291-125, a scaled-down Republican substitute.

There is one important difference between the House and the Senate bills, and strong sentiment in each chamber for its own version.

Each bill provides $300 million in revolving funds for loans. The Senate version would authorize the funds to be borrowed from the Treasury for re-lending. The House version would require appropriations to provide the loan funds — which would mean additional legislation, passed on by the Appropriations Committee.

Congress is about to begin its Easter recess, so it will be two weeks before conferees can get together to try to adjust the difference.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., says he will fight all the way for the Senate method. He has said Kennedy backs him in this position.

Some Senate sponsors are openly afraid that the conservative-led House Appropriations Committee would pare the funds, if it had control of the purse strings.

But in the House "back door financing"—the phrase used by opponents of the Treasury borrowing device—is a war cry for many Democrats as well as Republicans.

Perishes in Fire

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Thomas Knight, about 75, a Negro who lived alone, was burned to death when fire destroyed his house today.

Firemen said the fire started from a kerosene lamp. Knight's body was found three feet from an outside door. He apparently was trying to escape when he was overcome.

84 Students Are Released in Florida

By KATHRYN JOHNSON FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Jailhouse doors swung open today for 84 collegians held in connection with student disorders in this resort city.

"I am releasing you so you can get at least one more day of sunshine," said Municipal Court Judge Raymond A. Doumer, who addressed the students in the jail's mess hall.

One student remained behind bars. He was George T. Dalluge, 22, senior at Mankato State College, Mankato, Minn. He was sentenced to 70 days for inciting a riot and resisting arrest.

"It is not the desire of anyone to see you lose your graduation rights," the judge said, "but you must admit that the behavior of some students left much to be desired."

Included among those released were 72 students given jail sentences and 12 awaiting arraignment. Those awaiting arraignment, who could not post bail, were freed on their own recognizance.

"I, as a citizen, am as much to blame as you are for a portion of this situation," the judge said. "We knew you were coming but I, like the rest, did not do anything to prepare for it."

The judge acted after city officials had siphoned off the restless tension of vacationing college students with another free dance on a cordoned stretch of ocean highway.

There were no traffic blockades Wednesday night other than for the dance area and police vigilance was almost back to normal in contrast to the hustling police tactics of the night before.

The street dance was planned by city officials to divert students from the rioting which occurred earlier this week after police imposed a nighttime ban on beer

Governor Hits

Faubus noted that Cottrell's attorney, Eugene Warren, also represents the AEA. Cottrell said when he filed the suit that Warren also had been his personal attorney for 14 years.

Faubus called a special news conference and issued a two-page statement detailing today's action. He indicated he plans no further step to free the omnibus bill from legal entanglements.

"What's the object of this lawsuit?" he asked. "Is a selfish clique trying to block these worthy projects? If blood is on anybody's hands, it's not on mine."

Among new projects which cannot be started because of the order, Faubus listed a $150,000 job at Arkansas AM&N College at Pine Bluff and National Guard armories in 16 counties. He did not say which counties.

The governor first said that $338,000 in construction money for district and county livestock shows also would be held up. He withdrew this statement after newsmen reminded him he had promised the legislature not to commit any of the new construction money in the omnibus bill until the fate of a companion $60 million bond issue proposal is decided.

Faubus declined again today to say when he will call a special election to seek voter approval of the proposed bond issue.

The omnibus bill and the bond bill were linked in Faubus' sweeping construction program which included more than $71 million in projects.

Bond money would be allocated primarily for work at the State Hospital, University of Arkansas, state colleges and Children's Colony, the Blind and Deaf Schools and the McRae Sanatorium.

The omnibus law covers construction for other institutions and agencies. But it also includes $2 million to supplement teacher salaries, $800,000 for municipalities and $800,000 for operation of the University Medical Center among the cash items.

Jensen May Give Bosox Boost Needed

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

September 28, 1960 may turn out to be a mighty important date in the 1961 baseball fortunes of the Boston Red Sox.

On that day, Ted Williams said he was calling it a career as an active player. And Jackie Jensen announced that he was returning to the Red Sox in 1961 after a year's retirement "for personal reasons."

Thus Boston lost Williams, the colorful veteran, but regained the slugging Jensen—making a "come back" in the American League at the age of 34.

Jensen belted a three-run homer over the left field wall Wednesday in the bottom of the seventh and gave the Red Sox a 6-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians at Scottsdale, Ariz. Rain halted the game at the end of the seventh.

The distance-swinging outfielder accounted for four runs with a double besides his third homer of the spring.

Bill Monbouquette, a 14-game winner in 1960, pitched the seven innings for the Red Sox, who posted their 10th victory in 16 exhibition starts. Walt Bond homered for the Indians.

Elsewhere along the exhibition circuit Wednesday: New York snapped an eight-game home base losing streak in downing Detroit 5-3. Milwaukee turned back Minnesota 6-2. Kansas City nipped St. Louis 3-2. Philadelphia whipped Pittsburgh 7-2. The Chicago White Sox licked the Los Angeles Dodgers 10-6. And San Francisco blanked the Chicago Cubs 8-0 in a game called after seven innings because of rain. Cincinnati split its squad for a day-night game. The Reds' B team bowed to Washington 5-4 in the afternoon and the "A" team lost at night to Baltimore in Miami, 9-3.

Bill Skowron and Bobby Richardson powered the Yanks over the Tigers with homers off Paul Foytack. Hank Aaron, Joe Adcock and Frank Bolling homered for the winning Braves while Harmon Killebrew connected in a losing game for Minnesota.

Ray Herbert of the A's shut out the Cars with three hits in seven innings. The Red Birds scoring twice in the ninth off Ed Keegan. The Phils' Robin Roberts worked seven shutout frames in extending his scoreless string to 17 innings at the expense of the Pirates.

Jim Landis and Floyd Robinson collected three hits apiece as the White Sox combed four Dodger pitchers for 15 hits.

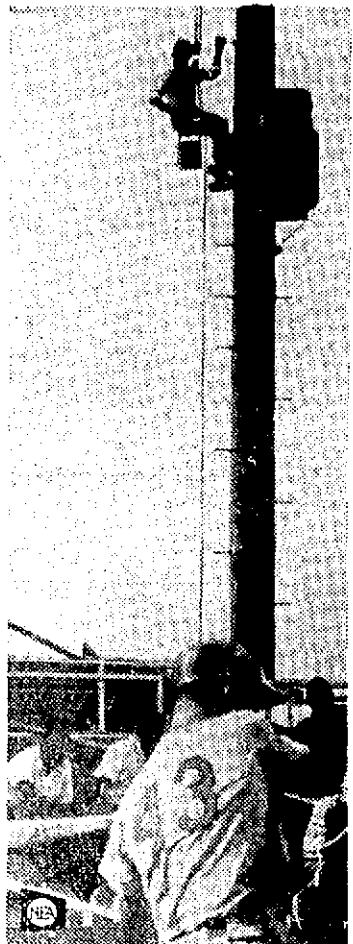

Jack Sanford blanked the Cubs on four hits while Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and Matty Alou homered for the Giants. Alou's was a grand-slammer off Glen Hobbie.

Hawks Even Up Series in Playoff

LOS ANGELES (AP) —The St. Louis Hawks have won their "must" game from the Los Angeles Lakers and now are favored to capture another Western Division title in the National Basketball Association.

The Hawks surprised the Lakers Wednesday night, 114-113, in an overtime game.

The Hawks won the big one without their big center, Clyde Lovellette, hospitalized in St. Louis with a bad back sprain. He will not be able to play in the seventh and deciding game with the Lakers in St. Louis Saturday afternoon. The game will be televised nationally.

The teams finished regulation time in a 100 all tie. The Lakers, who started cold and staged a great fourth-quarter rally to pull into a tie, went ahead in the overtime. They had a three-point surge, dropped behind, and then Jerry West put Los Angeles in front, 111-110, with 27 second left.

Bob Pettit then banked one off the board and Al Zerrari added two free throws with only six seconds to go. The Lakers' Elgin Baylor topped all scorers with 39. Pettit led the Hawks with 31.

AAU Indoor Swim Meet Is Underway

BY LOU BLACK

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — The big splash starts today. It's the three-day, 16-event National AAU indoor swimming and diving championships.

Here to flex muscles and a possible shove toward the next Olympics are some 300-plus water whizzes from 20 states and seven foreign countries. Many of them are whiz kids, and future headliners.

A mixture of the present and the future on hand includes Southern California's Murray Rose, Indiana's Mike Troy, Al Somers, Frank McKinney and John Rothke. Rose's teammate Charlie Bittick, Michigan's Dick Nelson, Sanford's George Harrison and Bill Mulliken of Miami of Ohio.

Defending titles they won last year are Somers, Bittick, Troy, Nelson, Mulliken and Harrison. Rose and Harrison are the big boys today as the latest assault on the record books starts in Yale's 50-meter practice tank, and the push 25-yard pool.

They're the favorites in this afternoon's tests, Harrison to defend in the 400-yard individual medley, and Rose in the 1500-meter grind. Six events are scheduled Friday and the rest Saturday, with preliminaries after lunch and finals after dinner.

Iowa, had beaten the Hogs in their opener Monday. Arkansas split a twin-bill with Tulsa Tuesday.

McCaughtry didn't allow a hit until the fourth. He gave up two singles in the game which was called after seven innings because of 40 degree temperatures.

Arkansas scored in the first inning on singles by Jerry Carlton and Pat Foster and in the fourth when Foster came home on an error.

Bob Wyllie, the Buena Vista starter, was the loser.

The Boxing Spotlight on Patterson

CHICAGO (AP) —The brothers Patterson — heavyweight champion Floyd and his kid brother and amateur hopeful, Ray—complicates to steal the limelight of the Golden Gloves intercity bouts Wednesday night.

New York's team defeated Chicago by winning 9 bouts to 7 and Ray, 18, scored the final victory to make the decisive edge.

At 185 pounds, he spotted some 25 to Al Jenkins, a hulking foundry worker at Green Bay, Wis., and hammered out a three-round decision, bobbing and weaving, and using the peek-a-boo style of his famed brother.

Ray's victory averted an 8-0 deadlock and gave New York its 10th triumph against 16 losses and 8 draws in the series. Chicago won in Madison Square Garden last year, 12-4.

Floyd was hounded by autograph hunters when he appeared late in Chicago Stadium. He was given a round of applause by the 8,026 fans. He sat in the ringside press row, watching his brother.

"I think Ray should turn pro in about a year," Floyd said. "I don't think it's good for him to be an amateur too long. I'll manage him."

"If anyone kicks about me being the manager, then I'll get some one to be a front man but I'll be the real manager. I don't know why anyone wouldn't approve of a brother managing his own brother."

"I think Ray will be every bit as good as me, and possibly become the No. 1 challenger," Floyd continued. "Wouldn't that be something if the two of us fought for the championship some day?"

SWC Football Prospects for Coming Season

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) —It's baseball and track season but you wouldn't think so by the sports pages. There's just no way of keeping football off them.

Main reason is that football is the only collegiate sport that pays a profit. And, Southwest Conference schools are going through spring training.

While this doesn't give an accurate picture of the relative strength of the teams, because in spring training the boys are playing each other in each camp, it

Collegiate Gold Meet Underway

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Downing Gray, a husky Florida State senior, held a three-stroke lead today as 80 players from 20 schools began the second round of the All-America Intercollegiate Golf Tournament.

North Texas State held the team medal lead as pre-tournament, favorites challenged the lead Gray, 22, compiled in Wednesday opening round with a four-under-par 68.

The par-breaking performance by the low amateur of the recent Pensacola Open left the favorites three to eight strokes off the pace.

Homero Blancas, Houston junior who shared the individual title last year, had a 71. Frank Beard of Florida, winner of the Florida Intercollegiate title two weeks ago, shot a 73. Richard Crawford, Houston senior who won the NCAA championship in 1959 and 1960, took a 76.

Tied with Blancas at 71 were Frank Luke of North Texas and Chris Blocker of Texas Tech. Posting par 72s for the 6,785-yard Pine Forest Country Club course were Dickie Duple of Texas A&M and Sam Carmichael of Louisiana State.

North Texas, with a 294, held a two-stroke lead over Texas A&M in team medal play. LSU had 300, Florida and Florida State 301, Houston 302, Alabama 304, Oklahoma State, New Mexico and Oklahoma 305, Texas 306, Texas Tech 307, Baylor 309, Texas Wesleyan 314, Southern Methodist 315, Stephen F. Austin (Texas) 317, Hardin-Simmons 320, Western Illinois 321, Rice 328, And Yale 352.

It is hoped that the conference has five top teams because it sure needs to do some making up along the bowl front. The bowl record is a good indication of strength and the conference's mark along this line hasn't been very good in the last five years. The league has had teams in 11 bowl games in that time and has won on two, while losing seven and tying two. It is the worst record of any major conference in the country.

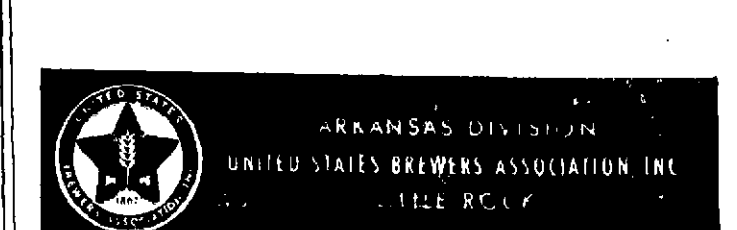

LET'S TALK ARKANSAS

a glass of beer is many things

It is, of course, the modern symbol of light refreshment. But a glass of beer is also an important cog in the wheels that make Arkansas' economic machinery run.

The forests of Arkansas represent one of our great natural assets. The pulpwood from these forests is used in vast quantities for the manufacture of cartons for the brewing industry, and many brewers throughout the United States use cartons made in Arkansas of Arkansas pulpwood. This is just one more good reason why beer belongs to good Arkansas living.

8 Indicted for Fraud in Election

DEVALS BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Eight indictments involving election irregularities in Prairie County were returned Tuesday by a county grand jury.

The indictments were the result of a lengthy investigation into the Aug. 9 primary election between state Sen. Jerry J. Screeton of Hazen and J.T. Gunter of Austin, the November general election and a December school election.

Indictments were also returned against two unidentified persons with warrants to be issued in a few days, Sheriff E. O. Hamilton said.

The eight Hazen residents indicted Tuesday posted bond of $500.

Two of those indicted were not identified pending serving of warrants. Sheriff E. O. Hamilton said warrants would be served in a few days.

The eight Hazen residents indicted and served Tuesday each posted $500 bond.

Those indicted and the charges were:

William F. Woods, publisher of the Grand Prairie Herald, charged with criminal libel for an editorial he published and for permitting fraudulent voting in the December school election.

Conley Gray and Rudy Van Houston, also charged with per-

Gray, R.C. Hertlieb and Eagle Boyd Jr., charged with fraudulent certification of votes and returns in the Aug. 9 election in Hazen. Gray was also charged with altering ballots after they had been cast.

Houston, Warren Brown and Irvin Sims, charged with permitting fraudulent voting in the November election in Hazen.

Phillip Smith, charged with bribing or influencing a person's vote in the December election.

Eagle Boyd and Joe Chambers of Carlisle were indicted earlier by a Southern District Grand Jury on charges of betting on the outcome of the Aug. 9 election.

Tuesday's indictments also were returned by a grand jury for the county's southern district. A grand jury for the northern district returned no indictments but criticized the county's Democratic Central Committee for its election procedures.

A Lonoke County Grand Jury in February said an investigation of the Aug. 9 election showed "many irregularities if not criminal acts," but said it did not have enough evidence to single out persons. It did not return any indictments.

Screeton was the apparent victor in the Aug. 9 election, but Gunter contested this outcome. After a prolonged court hearing, Screeton's name appeared on the general election ballot, but he was defeated by Charles L. George of Cabot, a write-in candidate.

District Fee Is Ruled Due the Counties

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An attorney general's opinion may mean that statewide candidates in future general elections will have to pay 50 cents to each county to qualify for the ballot, Secretary of State Nancy Hall said today.

Atty. Gen. Frank Holt, in an opinion Tuesday, said that candidates in a 6th Congressional District special election should pay each county its share of the filing fee. He said laws governing payment of filing fees are conflicting, but that this appeared to be the safe course.

Mrs. Hall said that this would mean that for the 1962 general election, candidates for state offices would have to pay a share of the $37.50 filing fee in each of the 75 counties before filing with the secretary of state.

Mrs. Hall predicted that a suit will be filed before the 1962 election to get the procedure clarified. In the past filing fees have been paid to the secretary of state, who apportioned them to the various counties.

Pals Admit Guilt, to His Surprise

KINSTON, N.C. (AP)—His co-defendants surprised Harold A. Smith with guilty pleas as accessories, but it was only a momentary break in the composure of the young man charged with murder.

The ready acceptance of the guilty pleas by the prosecution Tuesday could mean that the state expects Jesse Eugene Perry or Eugene Jacobs to turn state's evidence in the July 21 robbery-slaying of Marine Sgt. Robert Schroeder. All three had been charged with murder.

Smith, 20, of Memphis, obviously had not expected the pleas. He

Junior High School to Desegregate

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Junior high schools must be desegregated next fall or the Little Rock School Board will face federal court contempt charges, the board's secretary said Tuesday.

Ted Lamb, board member who in the past has warned that unless desegregation is extended federal courts may order complete racial mixing, made his statement about junior high school integration in referring to a recent federal court ruling.

And Russell Matson Jr., the board's vice president, told The Associated Press that he expects integration to be extended to junior high schools next fall.

Junior high school desegregation originally was slated for last fall but the board, noting that this was contingent upon successful integration of high schools, delayed snapped his head around toward the defendants beside him with surprise showing on his face.

Perry, 24, also of Memphis, and Jacobs, 21, of Durham, N.C., pleaded guilty as accessories after the fact of murder, which carries a maximum penalty of 10 years in jail. Judge Rudolph Mintz delayed sentencing until completion of the trial of Smith.

Today, lawyers resumed examining prospective jurors.

Thirty-seven members of a special venire of 200 were questioned Tuesday in seating the first seven jurors.

Asks Special Session to Aid Bond Bill

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rep. Virgil Fletcher of Saline County said today he has asked Gov. Orval E. Faubus to call a special legislative session to approve individually the items in a $16 million omnibus expenditures law, whose constitutionality is under court attack.

Faubus said he had received Fletcher's letter suggesting the session but had not had a chance to read it closely. He declined further comment.

Fletcher, who supported the omnibus bill while it was before the Legislature, said the measure probably was unconstitutional.

He said similar bills, containing miscellaneous items, had been passed before but had not been questioned. The state constitution says that with certain exceptions any appropriation must be made by an individual bill. The omnibus contains more than 30 appropriation items for a wide variety of purposes.

Constitutionality of the omnibus law, which is a companion measure to Faubus' proposed $60 million construction bond issue, was challenged in a suit filed in Pulaski Chancery Court last week by Rep. J. H. Cottrell of Pulaski County.

Since then four interventions asking that the law be upheld have been filed by groups or agencies which would benefit from the law. The latest was filed Tuesday by the Arkansas Livestock Show Association.

Faubus already has said that he will call a special session of the Legislature to revise the omnibus law if voters should reject the bond proposal. No date has been set for the statewide bond election.

Latin Liberal Chiefs Hail Kennedy

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Twenty liberal political leaders in 12 Latin American nations today called upon Latin America to accept the "friendly hand" extended by President Kennedy.

Jose Figueres, ex-president of Costa Rica, told a news conference the 20 have signed a manifesto reading in part:

"We should now accept the word of President Kennedy and take the initiative in the face of the proposed alliance for progress. Progress for us signifies liberty, justice and development."

Kennedy proposed March 13 it. High school integration brought violence in 1957-58 and again in 1959 when high schools reopened after having been closed for a year.

The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis recently directed that the school board speed up desegregation. In this regard it noted that the board had postponed the integration of junior high schools.

Lamb, speaking at a civic club meeting, said he had been trying for two years to get the board to follow the federal court rulings on integration.

"I have said all these things in executive session, but I have not gotten anywhere, so I have decided to say them publicly," Lamb remarked.

Lamb warned that the state may lose the Arkansas Pupil Placement Law and the Blossom plan for gradual desegregation if federal court speedup orders are not complied with.

Said Lamb: "There are only seven Negroes in Little Rock Central High School this year compared to nine in 1959. Of course there are four at Hall and under this ratio I figure we will be able to integrate Little Rock schools in 600 years."

Queen Is Dazzling in New Dress

LONDON (AP)—Once upon a time, the queen of England was a conventionally dressed woman. But not any more.

She's a knockout. British newspapers today published pictures of Queen Elizabeth II dressed in a slinky, figure-hugging sequin dress and a white stole rakishly slung over her trim shoulders.

The queen was guest of honor that the United States and Latin America combine in a long-range economic assistance program, with the United States aiding those nations that institute political and social reforms.

Tuesday night at the home of the Indian high commissioner, Mrs. V. Pandit, and went dressed in the closest thing to an Indian sari—a garment that takes back seat to few when it comes to flattering the female figure.

Elizabeth's clinging dress descended to her royal toes and was cut fairly low above her bosom, revealing her pretty curves.

The queen's dark hair was lacquered and diamond pendants hung from her ears. A diamond necklace encircled her neck. Her lips were heavily though artfully rouged and eye shadow accented her blue eyes.

CHAPTER XXII

He took a deep drag at his cheroot, then took it from his lips and waved it up and down to emphasize his next remark.

"This camp has about another year, maybe even 18 months to really boom. And I want to ride that boom to the finish because there's money to be made. But let's be frank about some facts. Nobody likes our methods but us. The fools sweat for their money the hard way. We take it away from them in easy ways. They keep coming back because they got no other place to go, not because they like us. And that mass dislike is the charge of dynamite we got to consider all the time, and plan according. Which is why, while we got to get rid of Waddell, it has to be done in a way that won't point the finger at Ute Street."

Price Ringgold turned thoughtful. He nodded slowly.

"You make sense," he acknowledged. "You also make the chore of getting rid of Waddell no easier. Unless you've figured something out?"

Hogan Geer tipped his head toward Breed Garvey. "Me and Breed, we have."

"Good enough," said Price Ringgold, "but before you tell me about your plans for Waddell, there's something I want done. It concerns that tinhorn MacSwain who hit town a couple of days ago and is playing in the Palace."

"While also cutting in on your own private sucker preserve, Mr. Hume and Mr. Garrison?" Hogan Geer asked.

"So long as you ask, yes. I want him out of this camp. I don't care how it's done, just so it's done right and for good."

Hogan Geer turned to Elvie Spooner. "You heard what Price wants done. Take care of it."

"His pockets should be lined," put in Ringgold. "In two nights of play he's taken $500 from me and I know he's into Garrison for at least that much and he nicked Hume too. All you find on him is yours if you do a real job."

Raw avarice glittered in the eyes of Elvie Spooner. "Me and Lee and Buff, we'll do a job," he promised.

Price Ringgold put his glance on Geer again. "Now what you and Garvey got figured for Waddell?"

It had been another tough night for Frank Scobie.

He stepped out into the morning somewhat furtively. Then his glance swung toward the lower end of the street and he saw the spare, tall figure of Chris Waddell stride vigorously off to Tom Roach's livery and freight corrals. Continuing to watch he presently saw Waddell ride out to town astride a solid looking grullo mount. For a moment it struck him that Waddell might be leaving Midas Hill for good. Second thought denied this.

Three big mugs of Frenchy's black coffee helped so much, Scobie added a fairly substantial breakfast to them and as a consequence returned to the street feeling considerably better.

He felt his pockets for a cigar, found none, so crossed to the office in the hope of locating one there. Buff Spooner sat behind the desk.

"Pretty soft!" he jeered. "Nothing to do but lay around, soak up whiskey and draw your pay. Yeah, pretty soft!"

"Don't need your opinion," retorted Scobie shortly.

Buff Spooner lowered his boots to the floor and straightened up, his eyes pinched with a cruel scorn.

"Don't use that tone with me, Scobie! I've got a notion to take your badge and make you eat it. And I'm here to tell you Geer

Widow Gives Up Cache of Thefts

DETROIT (AP)—Mary McBain, 44, a widow, told police Tuesday she had accumulated $5,000 worth of stolen goods in 10 years because she had "no one to talk to."

Officers said a fantastic variety of goods was found in the home of Mrs. McBain, arrested in a store on a charge of trying to take a necklace. She is held in $5,000 bond for alleged larceny.

Deliberation in Murder Trial

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP)—The jury in the Joseph Corbett Jr. murder trial resumes deliberations today after 10 hours of discussion failed to produce a verdict.

The jury is considering only two possible verdicts—acquittal or conviction of first-degree murder with a mandatory sentence of life in prison.

Corbett, 32, is accused of murdering Adolph Coors III Feb. 9, 1960 in an abortive kidnap attempt. The prosecution claimed he schemed for two years to abduct the wealthy head of the Adolph Coors Co. brewery and ransom him for a half-million dollars.

Corbett retired early in his cell in Jefferson County jail. Officers said he read a book after dinner and appeared little concerned.

A hold order from California authorities awaits the tall, slender defendant in the event he is acquitted here.

He escaped from a prison at Chino, Calif., in 1955, four years after he was convicted and sentenced to a 5-year to life term for the slaying of an Air Force sergeant.

Child Drowns

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP)—Frank Lloyd Lewis, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Denney, was found dead Monday in a stock pond near his home here. His death was ruled due to drowning.

wants to see you. Today — right away!

Buff Spooner got to his feet, spat contemptuously on the floor and walked out.

Hogan Geer was alone in the back room of the Belle Union. He let Scobie stand for a little time while studying him with a cold, black glance. Finally he nodded toward a chair.

"You know where Gold Run is?" "Heard of it," Scobie admitted. "Somewhere south of here?"

"About 12 miles. Was a placer rush there once. Now there's nothing left but a bar and trading post of sorts and a few cabins. Friend of mine, Charley Urbine, has the bar and store. You're heading down there for 10 days or two weeks."

Scobie stared. "Me—going to Gold Run? Why should I lay around for a couple of weeks?"

"I got reasons. Good ones. I've already sent word to Charley Urbine. He's expecting you."

"If I just knew why—?" "You don't need to know why. All you should be concerned about is that you've got a good thing here. Do as you're told and you'll still have it. Otherwise—" Hogan Geer let the threat hang.

Frank Scobie swallowed thickly. "If that's the way you want it, Hogan."

"That's the way I want it. You can rent a horse from Tim Roach."

Faubus Mum on Clemency for Bomber

LITTLE ROCK (A) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus declined to say Tuesday whether he would grant executive clemency to E. A. Lauderdale Sr. of Little Rock, sentenced to three years in prison in connection with the Labor Day bombings here.

Faubus said he has never exercised his clemency powers, except in an emergency, without a recommendation from the Pardons and Paroles Board.

Lauderdale, whose conviction was upheld by the Arkansas Supreme Court, is scheduled to begin serving his prison sentence April 3.

Faubus also declined to discuss his proposed $60 million construction bond issue after being queried about an editorial in the Arkansas Baptist opposing the bond issue.

The church magazine said it opposed the program because it is linked with horse racing at Hot Springs. A 1961 act sets aside revenues from the 12-day extension to the racing season for bond service.

News Briefs

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Shouting "Down with America," a crowd of 20,000 stoned the U. S. Embassy Monday night in protest against U. S. support for a United Nations inquiry into Portuguese Angola.

Mounted Republican Guards used tear gas to break up the demonstration.

The embassy doors had been locked and the staff had left before the demonstration.

PARIS (AP)—Prince Souvanna Phouma of Laos today predicted that the Soviet Union will accept Britain's cease-fire proposal for his country "with some slight modifications."

The neutralist Laotian leader, who the Soviets contend is the rightful head of the Laotian government, conferred Monday with the Soviet ambassador in Paris.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Mme. Chiang Kai-shek observed her 60th birthday today. Local newspapers chivalrously omitted the age from their "reports."

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Foreign Minister Chen yi of Communist China arrived today for talks with top Indonesian officials.

HONG KONG (AP)—Mrs. Robert McCann crossed into Communist China today en route to see her 60-year-old husband, an American prisoner of the communists who is reported dying of lung cancer.

The Red government gave the Pasadena, Calif., woman a two-week visa to visit her husband. She plans to appeal to officials in Peking to release him because of his critical condition.

McCann, a former businessman in North China, has been in Tientsin jail since June 1951, serving a 15-year sentence for unspecified "crimes against the state."

BANGKOK, Thailand (A)—Dean Rusk narrowly escaped a "buzz bombing" today but an American security man attached to the secretary of state was the only casualty.

A large swarm of bees attacked just after Rusk ended a news conference at the office of Thailand's prime minister. The U.S. secretary and most of his aides had already left, but newsmen had to beat a hasty retreat.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Stephen Leslie Badley was sentenced today to life imprisonment for the kidnap-murder of Graeme Thorne, 8, whose father had won $224,000 in government lottery.

Bradley, 35, was found guilty after an eight-day trial during which he denied the charge.

Easter Fires to Be Relighted

FREDERICKSBURG, Tex. (AP)—This southwest Texas hill country town's famed "Easter fires" will be relighted Saturday night.

It will be the 114th year that the fires have been burned in hills surrounding picturesque Fredericksburg. The fires represent legendary blazes used by the Easter rabbits to cook eggs and prepare dye for them.

Insurance of Home Loans Proposed

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today proposed government insurance of 25-year home loans as a new way of rebuilding rundown neighborhoods without federal handouts.

This was the surprise item in a $3.2-billion housing bill which Kennedy sent to Congress.

Also called for were step-ups in low-cost public housing, urban renewal and housing for the elderly, plus experimental 40-year, non-downpayment FHA mortgages for families of moderate income.

Most of the items were spelled out in Kennedy's special housing message to congress on March 9. However, only a vague hint was given them of the far-reaching character of the improvement loan proposal.

The 25-year loan would carry a maximum interest rate of 6 per cent and could total up to $10,000 per family living unit. Present improvement loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration run for only five years, carry a rate of 9.4 per cent and are subject to $3,500 ceiling.

Improvement funds could be advanced in the form of first or second mortgages or other types of loans and would be available in all sections, although basic terms would be the same everywhere.

Officials are hopeful that if Congress approves, the program will become the major weapon in attacking urban blight, without federal subsidy.

Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver, in a memo to Kennedy, said: "We sorely lack today the financing devices that are needed to support and encourage the upgrading of good homes and neighborhoods to preserve our cities and protect the living standards of our people."

Weaver said the entire housing bill emphasizes "the improvement of our existing housing supply instead of relying primarily on new housing construction for better homes, as we have been doing."

Kennedy's special message put no price tag on the total housing program. Weaver said the bill calls for new spending authority of $3.19 billion, of that amount, $1.05 billion would be spent by June 30, 1961 and $311 million in the 1962 fiscal year which begins July 1.

All these outlays would be in addition to those already authorized. The amount previously authorized for fiscal 1962 is $728 million.

The Thorne child was kidnapped on his way to school last July 7 a few weeks after his father won the lottery prize.

His battered body was found five weeks later.

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Sweden's motorists eased up on the gas today and began a week of slower driving. One minute after midnight a countrywide Easter speed limit of 56 miles an hour went into effect until midnight April 5.

Last year 22 persons died in automobile accidents during the Easter holidays. A speed limit was clamped on over Christmas and New Year's and only one person was killed, compared with 13 during the same period last year.

Zesty Shirred Eggs, Coffee— A Hit At All-Male Breakfast

There are still masculine domains where no feminine faces are allowed. For instance, at the men's club meeting, no girlish chatter reaches a man's ears. At such fraternal gatherings, it's still exclusively a man's world. Well, almost exclusively.

If a meal is involved, however, womanly assistance is more than welcome. And if your husband has graciously volunteered your services, you're smart to suggest a breakfast meeting. This delicious he-man menu is easy to fix for a crowd—and it's a sure-fire success. Shirred Eggs are made in muffin pans—one egg to each muffin cup. To accompany the eggs, bake corn bread in enormous pans, then cut into as many helpings as you need. Serve the fruit last—and make it Broiled Grapefruit Halves. Brush with butter, broil slightly, then spoon honey over each and broil again until golden brown and bubbly. By popular demand, a breakfast meeting should begin and end with coffee. If you're serving a large group, allow at least 40 cups for 25 people.

Shirred Eggs For A Crowd

Butter muffin pans generously. Drop an egg carefully into each cup. Top each egg with 1 tablespoon heavy cream. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika; dot with butter. Bake in moderate oven, 350°, 12 to 15 minutes or until egg whites are firm. Lift eggs out carefully to hot platter. Serve with Canadian bacon.

Cheese And Sesame Cornbread

Use packaged corn muffin mix; add 1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese to contents of each package of mix; add other ingredients as called for in package directions. When mixture is in pan, sprinkle top with sesame seed. Bake as directed for corn bread. Cut in squares, serve hot.

Laotians Care Little Who Wins

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—What do the Laotians themselves think about the power struggle between those two far-away giants, the United States and Russia, over their tiny land?

For a lot of them, not much. Report after report from there tells of great indifference to the civil war between the Russian-backed rebels in the north and the American-supported right-wing government in the south.

The greatest popular support is for neither side but for prince Souvanna Phouma. He's neutral.

To a lot of Laotians, therefore, the United States and Russia must look like a couple of busybodies. Yet the Laotians have to depend on someone. The country earns only a fraction of its expenses.

In 1960 its exports totaled $1.6 million while its national deficit was $33 million, about 20 times its export figure. Since 1954 this country put $310 million into Laos, most of it for the military forces.

Yet The Associated Press reports even the combatants are devout Buddhists who don't like to kill and have to be coaxed into fighting by their big power backers.

The Laotians don't even think as a nation. Many of them are split into tribes. One official said to most Laotians the civil war is just another family fight.

Yet Russia wants the Communist-led rebels to win. A Red Laos would be a foothold for a takeover in the rest of Southeast Asia. For that reason the United States is determined to block them.

So the Laotians are caught in the middle.

If there is peace in Laos—and if the country is divided, as it probably will be, since the reds don't usually yield any ground—both sides will have to work to win support.

Since both the West and communism will propagandize the people in their area, in due time maybe the Laotians on both sides will learn to get angry enough at each other to fight in earnest. All this sounds a little reminiscent—although the cases are not identical—of Indochina, half of which the French lost to communism in 1954.

The French had held all of Viet Nam from back in the 19th century. Being colonial-minded, they didn't train the Vietnamese for independence. Eventually, the Communists in the north revolted. From 1946 to 1954 the French fought them. But the French were so dainty they didn't send any draftees to Viet Nam, just volunteers.

One thing was sure: They weren't getting many volunteers from among the Vietnamese who simply wanted the French out. If they volunteered it was usually with the Communist-led rebels in the north.

Eventually the French had to give up the northern half. Now, seven years later, the Communists are on the move again, sending their guerrillas into South Viet Nam.

If Laos is split in half the time will probably come when the

Maddox to Be Named Circuit Judge

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus indicated today that Edward Maddox, a Harrisburg attorney, would be named to replace the late H. G. Partlow of Blytheville as a circuit judge in northeast Arkansas.

The governor said he probably would make the appointment later today.

Although he declined to say definitely that he would appoint Maddox, Faubus said, "He has been recommended by the bar associations of the district and I normally accept such recommendations." The vacant judgeship is one of Reds from the north put the heat on their southern brothers and there'll be a crisis of some kind all over again.

Stuttgart Barred on Expense Item

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The city of Stuttgart cannot legally spend city funds to maintain a building it does not own, even though it is used at times as a public auditorium, Atty. Gen. Frank Holt ruled today.

The opinion went to Stuttgart City Atty. William C. Davis, who two in the 2nd Judicial District. Faubus also declined to say whether he has chosen a successor to Walter L. Pope of Little Rock, chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Commission, who died last Saturday.

"I have had five or six recommendations—all of qualified men—for the job," Faubus said. "I expect to make the appointment right away."

Faubus refused to reveal names of candidates for the $10,000 a year job. The commission chairman must be a lawyer.

Ripped Bag Spills Loot, He Is Caught

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A pillow case put him in jail, 23-year-old Terrell Blacklock told police today.

Officers said he explained his troubles this way:

He was attempting to leave a drive-in restaurant when the pillow case in which he was carrying his loot ripped open. As he was stuffing the money back in the sack, Patrolman Frank Moore and Charles Roberts drove up and arrested him.

Police said the 120-pound Blacklock was trying to carry away 55 pounds of money—$275 in small change.

asked if the city could spend funds on the building built jointly by the National Guard and the non-profit grand prairie War Memorial Association.

Holt said the state constitution forbids such expenditures.

U. S. Permits Johansson to Return Home

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Swedish heavyweight Ingemar Johansson today was granted permission to leave this country pending final settlement of U. S. government tax claims against him.

U. S. Dist. Judge Emmet C. Choute permitted Johansson to depart after the fighter promised to return to this country when his testimony or depositions were required in the government's efforts to collect approximately a million dollars from his ring earnings.

Standing before Judge Choute, Johansson said through his attorney, Mathew Mannes of New York City, that he wished to return to Sweden to see a brother who recently underwent brain surgery and had asked for him. Johansson promised to return to

W. Johnson's Son Is Dead at 45

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter P. Johnson Jr., 45, son of baseball's famed pitcher, the late Walter (Big Train) Johnson, died Tuesday.

The younger Johnson was an automobile salesman until Hodgkin's disease forced his retirement two years ago.

He once tried out as a pitcher for the old Philadelphia Athletics and played for Des Moines, Iowa, in the minors.

this country when the government required his presence.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said in a statement:

"Prior to our consenting to Mr. Johansson's request that he be allowed to return to Sweden because of his brother's illness, we had obtained a court order setting aside between $600,000 and $800,000 as security for Mr. Johansson's possible tax liability."

Collection Code Baffles the Speaker

BOONVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Mayor John Bell, addressing a political rally Tuesday night, was handed a slip of paper near the end of his speech.

The paper bore the numbers 54 20.

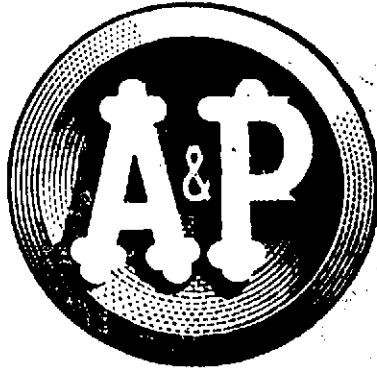

Assuming it was a police code signal, Bell confessed to the audience:

"I'm supposed to know these signals by now, but I don't. Can anyone here tell me what 54 20 means?"

Everyone, including several policemen, looked blank.

Finally Mrs. Lyburn Mann, wife of the sheriff, spoke up:

"That paper means we collected $54.20 from the people here tonight."
